Testimonials

The art of giving is both a tradition and a talent. It draws on the more positive impulses of human nature – on love, appreciation, friendship, generosity, imagination and even a sense of humour.

.....Stuart E Jacobson

The gift-giving philosophy: when you give, you will receive, even if it's not your intention...

Corporate gift-giving allows you: to regularly connect with your most valuable clients, strengthen customer relationships and share in the joy of any special occasion.

When you show your clients, staff and suppliers how much you value them by giving thoughtful, stunning gifts; you inspire and nurture priceless feelings of goodwill.

As a result, you'll likely find that clients will want to work with you more, spread the word about your business and become your greatest advocates.

Staff will want to work harder, work smarter and work faster; boosting morale and productivity in your workplace. And suppliers will want to keep delivering their quality services on time and on budget.

Exciting reasons to give gifts

For Clients:

- Business referrals
- New clients
- Incentive gifts for a promotional period
- Thank you for your continuing business
- Special occasions such as Christmas
- To make up for poor service or for missing a deadline

For Staff:

- Thank you for a job well done or for budgets met
- Welcome to a new team member
- Staff promotions
- New baby
- Birthdays, anniversaries and other special occasions like Christmas

To Suppliers

- Thank you for a job well done
- Exceeding expectations
- Business Referrals
- Incentives
- Special occasions such as Christmas

Why partner with Jill Morris from Simply Hampers?

- Unconditional Guarantee.

I stand behind every hamper that leaves the premises. If you are not completely happy, then neither am I, and your hamper will be replaced free of charge.

- Save time and money and a whole lot of frustration!

It takes money and man hours for you or your staff members to source quality gifts whenever the need arises. With this in mind, many managers are relieved to outsource this entire process to me.

- Quality produce and packaging that will knock your recipient's socks off!

I source only the best quality produce from boutique suppliers throughout regional Australia, often direct from the farm gate.

Not only that, my packaging is both sturdy and spectacular, creating a wow for all the right reasons. (I send hampers nationwide and overseas and they always arrive in perfect condition).

A gift reflects your company image, that's why my clients always choose quality at a price they can afford.

- Experience and expertise.

I have over 20 years' experience in the Gift Industry. As a client you will reap the benefits of my professionalism and expertise.

- So many happy clients.

I have spent 8 years in Cairns designing corporate gifts for small to medium businesses including Lexus and Pacific Toyota, Williams Graham Carmen Lawyers, Cairns Key Real Estate and David McCoy Homes, Westco Motors, Cairns Post, Reef Casino and Smartstaff International and Re-max to name a few. As you can see, I love working with Cairns-based businesses!

- Personalised service.

I can design gifts exclusively for your business, incorporating your business logo and company colours. Imagine stamping your corporate image on a stunning hamper! You'll be taking gift-giving to the next level...

- Gift-giving etiquette is followed, so as not to offend.

Sometimes wine is not appropriate for people of certain religious beliefs, or for people in certain indigenous communities. People in some Asian countries have an aversion to certain colours. You aren't to know the hundreds of etiquette rules, but I do. I'll ensure that all etiquette is followed in order to project the perfect image for your business.

- Personal Touch

In this digital age, a hand-written message or card that accompanies a stunning hamper leaves more of a lasting impression than just an email or text message.

- Personal Delivery

A personally-delivered gift fills someone's ordinary day with something magical. If you are in Cairns, Simply Hampers will deliver your gifts personally for you. The gift will be in an 'open' style much like a flower bouquet.

How Our Programme Works

After your initial FREE consultation, I'll design gift hamper samples at different price-points for your approval, based on the gift-giving requirements that we've discussed.

When it's time to give a gift, 5 minutes is all you need!

You will receive a portfolio of the designs, so that when it's time to give a gift hamper, simply email me with your order number, design number, recipient's name, recipient's address and your personal message. Then leave the rest to me!

If you have multiple recipients, for example at Christmas contact us and we will forward our spreadsheet to enter your client's details to you.

You will also receive:

- A login to our website so that you can access other designs if you wish and corporate prices.
- Reminders for occasions such as Mother's Day, Easter, Father's Day and details of any new designs.
- Samples of new products and invitations to tasting evenings and new range showings.

If you wish, you can also send me a list of important dates such as partner's birthday, anniversaries etc. I'll log them into my system and call you personally (obligation free) to remind you.

I'll also record the gifts sent out on your behalf to avoid the same item being sent to the same person or business.
